Navigating

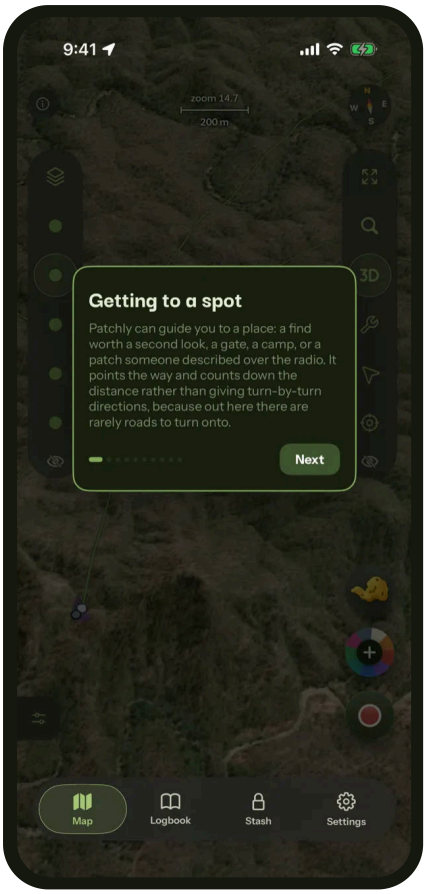

How do I get back to a spot I marked?

Patchly can guide you to any point on the map, to a find or a pin you logged, or along a line such as a lead or a track. This tour covers all four.

Step 1 of 10

Getting to a spot

Patchly can guide you to a place: a find worth a second look, a gate, a camp, or a patch someone described over the radio. It points the way and counts down the distance rather than giving turn-by-turn directions, because out here there are rarely roads to turn onto.

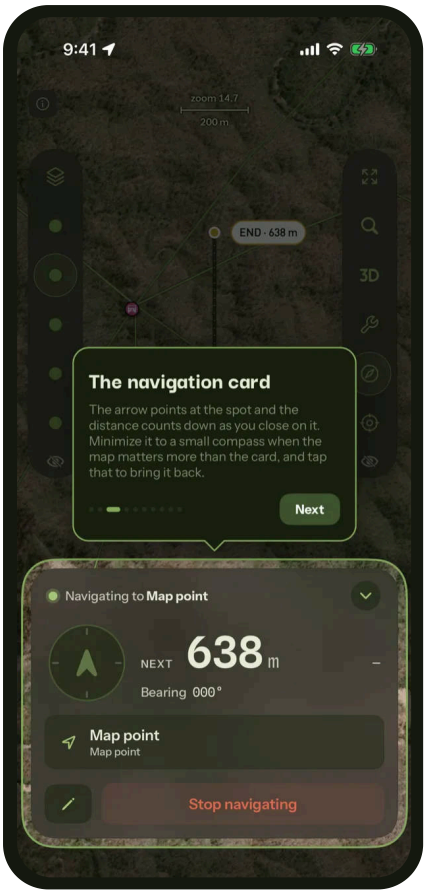

Step 2 of 10

Pick a spot on the map

Press and hold the map inside the circle. A sheet opens for that point, with the ways to use it. Go to starts guiding you there.

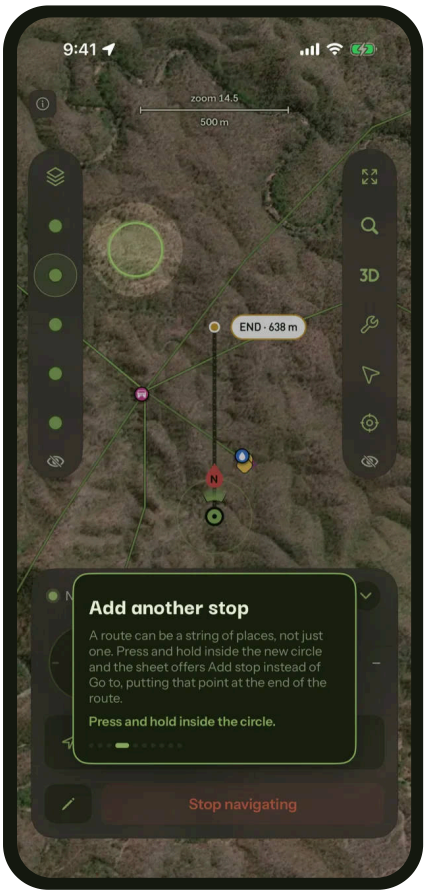

WHAT TO DO
Press and hold inside the circle. Tap Go to in the sheet.

Step 3 of 10

The navigation card

The arrow points at the spot and the distance counts down as you close on it. Minimize it to a small compass when the map matters more than the card, and tap that to bring it back.

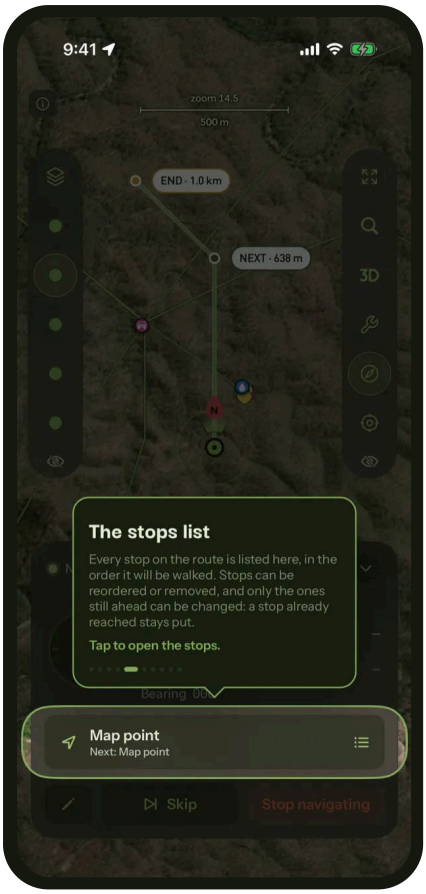

Step 4 of 10

Add another stop

A route can be a string of places, not just one. Press and hold inside the new circle and the sheet offers Add stop instead of Go to, putting that point at the end of the route.

WHAT TO DO

Press and hold inside the circle. Tap Add stop in the sheet.

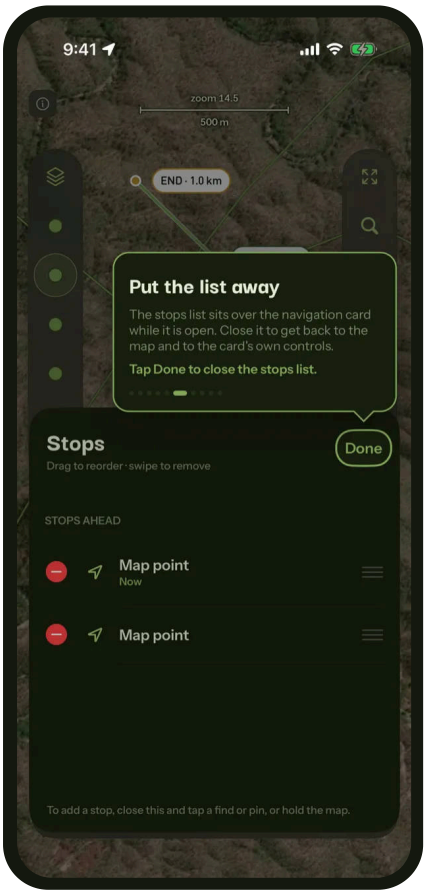

Step 5 of 10

The stops list

Every stop on the route is listed here, in the order it will be walked. Stops can be reordered or removed, and only the ones still ahead can be changed: a stop already reached stays put.

WHAT TO DO
Tap to open the stops.

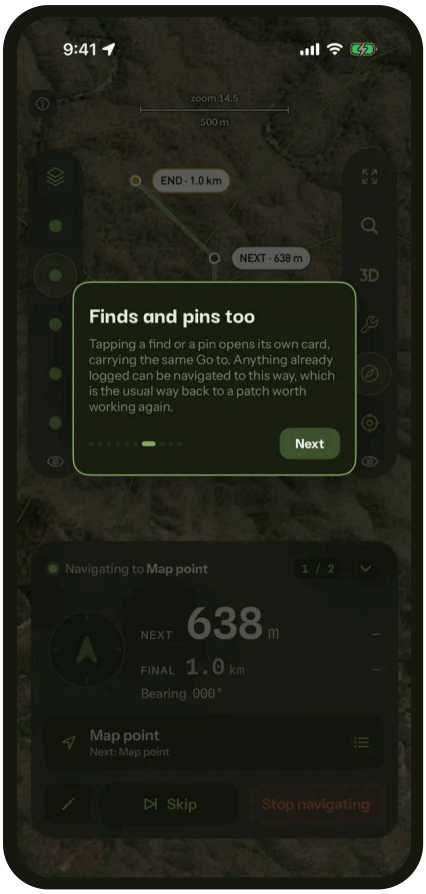

Step 6 of 10

Put the list away

The stops list sits over the navigation card while it is open. Close it to get back to the map and to the card's own controls.

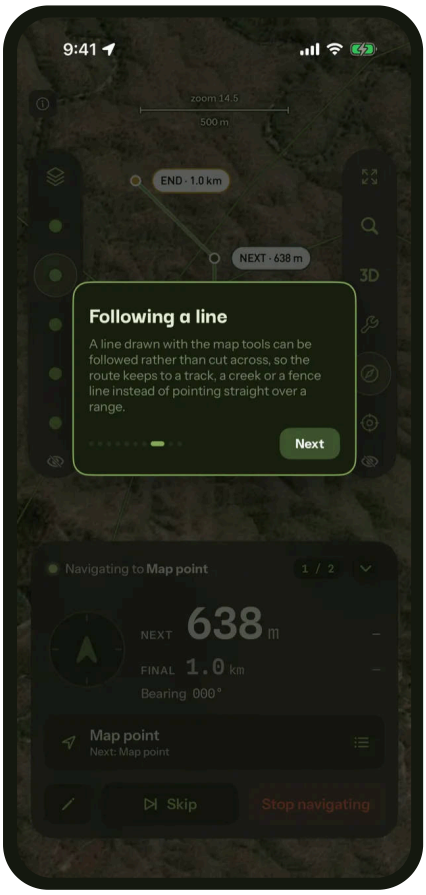

WHAT TO DO
Tap Done to close the stops list.

Step 7 of 10

Finds and pins too

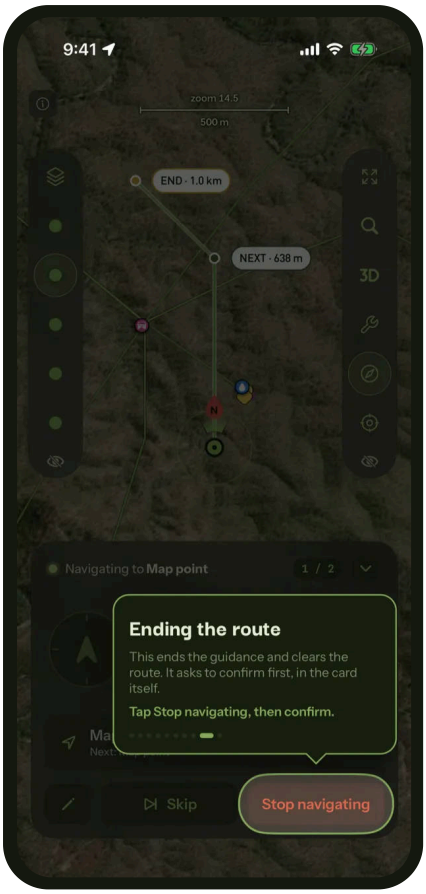

Tapping a find or a pin opens its own card, carrying the same Go to. Anything already logged can be navigated to this way, which is the usual way back to a patch worth working again.

Step 8 of 10

Following a line

A line drawn with the map tools can be followed rather than cut across, so the route keeps to a track, a creek or a fence line instead of pointing straight over a range.

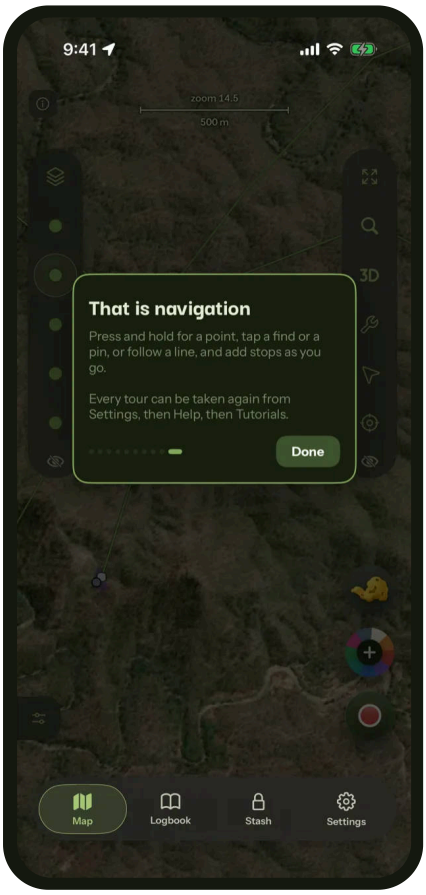

Step 9 of 10

Ending the route

This ends the guidance and clears the route. It asks to confirm first, in the card itself.

WHAT TO DO
Tap Stop navigating, then confirm.

Step 10 of 10

That is navigation

Press and hold for a point, tap a find or a pin, or follow a line, and add stops as you go.

Every tour can be taken again from Settings, then Help, then Tutorials.
